

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON:

SUNDAY, APRIL 22, 1883

Regular meeting Y. M. C. A. at 2:45 this afternoon.

The Post-Intelligencer claims a population of 7,500 for Seattle.

A. M. Johnson & Co., invite the attention of fishermen who own nets.

R. F. Prael went below on yesterday's steamer to purchase spring stock.

Rough weather delayed the Miles yesterday. She will try it again this morning.

The Lombard is discharging tin at Flavel's dock. There are nearly 12,000 boxes.

The Mist says that everybody in St. Helena is busy earning money and getting rich. Good.

There will be no service in the Catholic church to-day on account of the absence of the pastor.

J. W. Walters will preach to the Sunday school scholars at 11 o'clock a. m. All are invited to be present.

A merry party of little folks celebrated Winnie Goodwin's eighth birthday at her parent's residence yesterday.

Win. Loeb & Co. have added to their increasing business and make a specialty of supplying all manner of saloon supplies.

The Coos Bay News reports that salmon fishing has begun in the coast streams in that vicinity. The run is very light so far.

The Vancouver Independent says that at that point fishermen get nothing but sturgeon in their nets. Well, sturgeon isn't bad.

The regularity of the full moon is somewhat marred at half past three this morning by a partial eclipse visible to early rising Astorians.

The Olympia delinquent tax list takes up over three columns of the Standard. The Astoria delinquent tax list would take about half an inch of space.

Yesterday was the eightieth birthday of Mr. T. P. Powers. That he may live to see many happy returns of the anniversary is the wish of his many friends.

Major Jack Stratman who was broken up in the newspaper business in San Francisco for exposing a villainous thief named J. C. Duncan, is visiting Seattle.

By reference to another column it will be seen that the Westport Mill company is on deck. They have put in some fine machinery and want to make contracts for a lumber. See adv.

The Sprague Herald says: The N. P. R. R. agents and employees, high and low, have been given a chance to resign, particularly the former; a polite way the company has of discharging its men.

The N. Y. Sun announces that Mr. Arthur has the best record for catching salmon of any man in this country. Let us see: Arthur—Arthur—what boat was he captain of, and who did he fish for?

A settler in the neighborhood of John Day's river reports meeting the railroad engineers heading for Kamm's place on the Klaskanine. It is reported that another party has started from Forest Grove, coming this way.

The Enterprise is glad to see the "boom" in Oregon City subsiding. It is opposed to seeing real estate held so high as to deter people from buying who want to settle down and do business. There is something in that.

The Salem Statesman has already put on the mantle of prophecy and announces prospective Democratic candidates for congress from this State. This is "crowding the mourners." Time enough to select a player after the music is procured.

The Rt. Rev. B. Wister Morris, D. D., will be present and administer the rite of confirmation at the 11 a. m. service in Grace church to-day. The officery at this service will be devoted to the cause of Diocesan Missions. The Bishop will also be present at the evening service at 7 p. m.

Rev. C. J. Larson, of the Scandinavian Methodist church, will conduct services to-day in Upper Astoria school house at 2 p. m. A cordial invitation is extended to all. The same minister will preach in English at 11 o'clock in the Methodist church. The evening service at this church will be at 7:30.

You would be surprised to learn says the Mist, that here in St. Helena, on the banks of the lordly Columbia, with numerous fishing boats landing every morning, it is impossible to buy, beg or steal a salmon. The fishermen, when asked if they have any salmon, usually answer, "Yes, but we are going to ship them on the steamer."

Wanted: Two rooms for light housekeeping. Furnished preferred. Address Box 11, P. O.

Liquor Prosecutions.

The demurrer to the case of Wallace, charged with violating the license ordinance, was overruled in the police court yesterday, and the defendant gave notice of appeal. Police Judge Moreland said that he thought that the complaints set out a course of action under the ordinance, but he could not try the validity of the law. As that point was to be tested soon in the appellate court, he saw no necessity for any hurried proceedings in the case. There are about fifty complaints with demurrers filed, all hanging on the same point of law. Capt. Schneider's case will be up for hearing this morning in the circuit court. There is some talk of putting the ordinance into its fullest effect, which will, therefore, reach wholesale dealers, restaurants and others. The law reads that no person in this city shall sell, barter or deliver any wine, spirituous or malt liquors, to be drunk on the premises owned or occupied by him. No special quantity of liquor is mentioned, and it cannot be given away, even a single drink, or any other amount. Section 3 provides that no bar keeper shall allow any woman to act as waitress, or sing and dance, or act in any capacity in a bar room. But the supreme court of California decided three years ago that a woman had as much right to make a living in a bar room as a man. The cases are drawing pretty close to a solution now, and will probably reach a final decision this week. —Standard.

Teachers' Meeting.

A regular meeting of the teachers association was held yesterday afternoon. In the absence of the president, Supt. Sloop took the chair. He then presented to the association his method of teaching penmanship, in a very instructive way, teaching by the Spencerian system with several additional principles for advanced pupils. This exercise was followed by a method of teaching mental arithmetic by Mr. Caswell which was followed by Miss Lawrence, who gave her method of teaching reading. Miss L. uses the word method with good success. Miss Field then gave her method of teaching geography, Miss F. would require pupils to write out their lessons, whereby they would learn to spell geographical words. Miss Badollet then gave her method of teaching practical arithmetic, explaining how she teaches carrying and borrowing, in the fundamental rules. The association then adjourned subject to the call of the officers.

Astoria Chamber of Commerce.

The Astoria Chamber of Commerce held a special meeting, last evening. In the absence of president Bowley, vice-president A. W. Berry, took the chair. The secretary read a dispatch from Mr. Villard, stating that he would be glad to meet a committee from the chamber on Tuesday next at 2 p. m. at the O. R. & N. Co's office in Portland. A motion that a committee of five to be nominated by the chair be appointed to confer with Mr. Villard on the subject of the Astoria land grant and other matters pertaining to the commercial interests of Astoria, was carried. The committee selected consists of Messrs. I. W. Case, J. D. Merryman, Dr. A. C. Kinney, C. W. Fulton, and by special motion the chairman A. W. Berry was elected the fifth.

BOILED DOWN.

Sailor Colfax lectured in New York on President Lincoln last Tuesday night. Over 500 immigrants for Oregon and Washington Territory arrived in San Francisco yesterday. The Alaska salmon Packing and Fur company has been organized in San Francisco. An increased force of laborers have been put to work above Redding on the line of the C. & O. railroad. At a fire in Sacramento, Cal., last Friday, four men were killed and twenty injured by falling walls. The Oregon went to sea yesterday afternoon; the Quebec public buildings were burned last Friday. Chief Moses' complaints have reached Washington. Troops have left Walla Walla with supposed instructions to make him go back to his reservation. Thousands are leaving England for Manitoba. In the last twenty days 1,300 S. F. passengers have landed at Seattle. The bar was very rough yesterday. Lunar eclipse at 3:30 this morning. 150 excursionists to Oregon left Philadelphia last Friday. Arkansas floods are devastating plantations. The rush to this north-west coast continues. Government troops are killing Apaches in Hermosillo. Western Texas cowboys have struck for higher wages and threaten dreadful deeds unless demands are complied with. 6,000 idle Italians in New York. Deputy Sheriff Coffin, of Boise City, Idaho, was shot dead last Friday by an escaped prisoner. Learned men assert that communistic doctrines have taken deep root in this country. Villard delivered a gratifying speech at New Tacoma last Friday. The same evening at Seattle at a meeting of leading citizens he accepted for the corporations represented by him the sum of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars from the people, as an inducement to build a line of railroad into the Cedar and Green river valley, from fifteen to thirty miles long. He said he would come again with the first train from New York over the completed line of the Northern Pacific, in September next, when he expects to ride in his own car into that city. President Arthur is riding through Georgia. In the star trial at Washington last Friday Brady's newspaper experience was touched upon, the assertion was made that he bought up every second hand newspaper that was for sale in Washington; that he rented every paper throughout the country which could be rented, and that he bought up every impecunious correspondent who could be corrupted. The Oregonian thinks Columbia City, would be a capital place for Portland shippers to load wheat; the Oregonian will have its little joke.
